Being Miss America 'Like Living A Whole Lifetime In One Year'

By Nancy Shirley
Being Miss America is "like living a whole lifetime in just one year."

That's the opinion of a charming Southerner, Miss Mary Ann Mobley of Brandon, Miss., who has held the title of Miss America for the last year.

Miss Mobley (or Miss America) arrived in Lincoln Sunday via Frontier Airlines to appear at Monday's "Pageantry Under the Stars," at which a new Miss Nebraska will be selected.

The Nebraska pageant is the last one Miss Mobley will attend before she returns to her native Mississippi to crown the new Miss Mississippi.

What's It Like?
What's it like to be Miss America?
"It's just wonderful," Miss Mobley said.

What does it mean to be crowned Miss America?
"Well, it means travel and excitement, and most of all meeting many wonderful people," she said.

1959 BEAUTY FETE TODAY

The schedule of events for Monday's Miss Nebraska pageant is:

10 a.m.—Parade through downtown Lincoln, led by the SAC Band from Offutt Base near Omaha.

8 p.m.—Finals in Miss Nebraska contest, "Pageantry Under the Stars," at the Congress Inn Motel west of Lincoln.

Miss Mobley, who has traveled more than 125,000 miles during her reign, visiting 44 states, Mexico and Canada, said she "couldn't begin to name the 200 cities I've been in."

Return Home

Miss Mobley considers the highlight of her reign her return to her hometown, Brandon, Miss., just after being dubbed Miss America.

"Brandon is only a town of 2,500," she said, "and on the day of my homecoming, there were 10,000 people there."

"It's exciting to be greeted by that many strangers," she continued, "but when it's people at home, well, it's different somehow. It means so much more."

And what will it be like to give up the title after a year of fun and excitement?
"A Little Sad"

"I'll be a little sad, of course," Miss Mobley said, "but it'll be nice to get back to a normal life."

A "normal life" for Miss Mobley will include returning to Mississippi and resuming her studies at the University of Mississippi, where she is a member of Chi Omega sorority.

Greeting Miss Mobley at the airport were Lincoln Jay-Cee officials, sponsors of the contest, 5 members of the Chi Omega chapter at the University of Nebraska, and a host of Lincolniters who just wanted to see what a real Miss America looks like.

Looks pretty good, huh, fellows?

Castro Again Premier; Cuban Mob Goes Wild

Havana (AP)—Fidel Castro Sunday night accepted the mandate of a roaring crowd to return to Cuba's premiership and, by implication, warned his critics in the United States to stay out of Cuban affairs.

To a wildly cheering throng estimated at close to a million, the bearded revolutionary leader said Cuba is not a protectorate or colony but a free, sovereign nation and "we have to account to no one."

Out of office since a week ago Friday after differences with his critics, Castro emphasized the theme that Cuba wants to be friends with all nations, but cannot be friends with "those who offend us, who insult us and who exploit us."

'Not The Victim'

"What the revolution proposes," he said, "is not to be the victim of any egoistic unjustified interest... what we desire is that nobody do us harm, that no vested interest impose itself on the destiny of our people."

Castro, who had called in hundreds of thousands of farmers from the provinces with their long machetes—sugar cane knives—to demonstrate their support of his policies, shouted emotionally: "From now on the symbol of our revolution will be the machete."

This brought wild cheers from the massed farmers. They clashed machetes together in unison as a symbol of their enthusiasm.

'Study The Machetes'

Castro said that if his enemies should ever think of coming back to Cuba "let them study those machetes for just about 5 minutes."

He accepted the call for his return to the premiership as the will of the people. He pledged himself to push the ideals of the revolution and confound its enemies.

The mighty crowd went

U.P. WILL PROTEST VALUE HIKE

The Union Pacific Railroad will file a complaint with the State Board of Equalization Monday morning protesting the assessment scheduled for 1959, reliable sources reported Sunday night.

Under a formula adopted by a 2-1 vote of the board July 15, Union Pacific's assessed valuation would be upped 3.18% over last year, an increase of more than $2 million.

The Chicago-Northwestern Railroad filed a complaint with the Board last Friday protesting its 1959 assessed valuation which called for a 7.7% increase, approximately $500,000 more than last year.

Gov. Ralph Brooks and State Treasurer Richard Larsen, both Democrats, voted for the formula which resulted in the increased valuation for most railroads doing business in Nebraska.

Johnson Against

State Auditor Ray C. Johnson, a Republican, voted against the increase.

State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington, also a Republican, disqualified himself from voting on the matter charging the 1959 railroad assessments were filled with "political overtones."

The board's 5th member, Republican Secretary of State Frank Marsh, was out of the state when the vote was taken.

wild when it heard the news—first from President Osvaldo Dorticos and then from Castro himself.

Most Cubans had suspected it was coming.

For Castro, on this sixth anniversary of his 26th of July movement, it was a moment of supreme triumph as well as a spectacular display of his own strength and popularity.

A tremendous cheer burst from the crowd that turned out at the Civic Plaza for the celebration of the sixth anniversary of Castro's 26th of July movement.

Members of the crowd threw straw sombreros into the air as the announcement was made that Castro would return to the job he left 9 days ago. The tumult lasted more than 5 minutes.

Herter, Lloyd Meet Amid Rumors Of Western Split

Geneva (AP)—Amid mounting indications of a western split on the terms of a Berlin truce, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Britain's Selwyn Lloyd conferred in private Sunday night.

Herter invited Lloyd to dinner in what looked like an attempt to find out just what Lloyd had in mind in his burst of diplomatic maneuvering late last week.

Some American officials said frankly they were worried about Lloyd's seizure of initiative to bring about an early summit meeting at the expense of lowering the West's announced terms for a stop-gap Berlin settlement. The French and West Germans also were reported concerned.

Missing Man Returns To Reformatory

James E. Poppert, 22, of Grand Island, voluntarily returned to the State Reformatory for Men Sunday afternoon.

He had walked away from a work detail Friday morning. Poppert visited his parents in Grand Island and they persuaded him to return. Superintendent Harold Smith said.

Poppert was serving time on a check charge.

OMAHAN DIES IN KANSAS CAR CRASH

Atchison, Kan. (AP)—Jodie Gatewood, 21, Omaha, Neb., was fatally injured Sunday in a car-truck collision on U.S. 73 near here.

Gatewood died this morning at the Atchison hospital. He was driving a car belonging to Grady McKinney, 40, of Omaha. McKinney suffered lacerations and bruises and is reported in good condition in the hospital.

Officers said Gatewood apparently lost control of the car on a sharp curve at Huron, Kan., 10 miles northwest of here. The car struck the center of the trailer on a truck-trailer. The truck driver, John Lehman, of Norfolk, Neb., was not injured.

Gatewood and McKinney were reported to be on their way to Kansas City to sing at a church meeting.

Crosses Burned Before 2 Homes, Methodist Church

Birmingham, Ala. (AP)—About 75 masked and hooded men burned crosses Sunday night in front of a church and two homes in a suburban residential area.

The crowd of men, riding in an estimated 30 cars, left the area after touching off the 6-foot crosses in front of the Cahaba Heights Methodist Church, in front of the home of the Rev. Robert E. Hughes and in front of another residence.

Rev. Jimmy Short, pastor of the Cahaba Heights Church, arrived there shortly after the cross was ignited. He kicked it over and extinguished the flames. Hughes put out the fire on his lawn with a garden hose.

Motive Racial
Both ministers said they felt they were targets of the cross-burning because of "moderate" feeling on racial segregation.

"I believe it was probably because I am not racial enough on the race issue," Short said. "I believe the Negro is a human being and should be treated like one."

Short said sheriff's deputies stopped 4 cars in the caravan of 30 and took down names and license numbers. No arrests were made.

Short said the deputies give the masked riders "a blessing out."

False Alarm At Hospital Brings 7 Fire Trucks

There were a lot of trucks, a lot of firemen and a lot of people there to watch the blaze but there just wasn't any fire.

The Lincoln Fire Dept. sent 7 trucks to Lincoln General Hospital to answer a false alarm about 10:30 Sunday night. Hospital officials said that a student nurse accidentally pulled a notification switch.

A crowd of 50-60 onlookers quickly gathered.

touched off the current Berlin crisis last November, the western powers have been insisting they will stay in West Berlin as long as Germany remains divided. The Americans have declared again and again they will not agree to a summit meeting unless western rights in West Berlin are secured in the foreign ministers conference, now entering its ninth week.

It is against this background that Lloyd has proposed going to the summit with an agreement that provides something less than Soviet assurances that the West's rights in West Berlin will remain intact up to the day Germany is reunited.

Lloyd's idea, expressed to the conference last Thursday, was that the outlines of a Berlin truce could be decided here and that final acceptance of this interim agreement could come at a meeting of heads of government.

No Lowering
Associates say Herter has never had any idea of lowering the basic western terms for a Berlin truce but Lloyd is portrayed as believing the Russians will not accept these terms.

This is the heart of the evident division in the western camp. The British appeared to be working hard behind the scenes to convince their western allies they had better take what they can get at Geneva.

Herter made a flying trip to West Berlin. He renewed the western pledges in these terms: "Much has been said at Geneva about the question of western rights in Berlin. These rights are clear and cannot be terminated by the unilateral action of any other power. We have not accepted and we will not accept any deadline on them."

Back To Berlin
The Geneva talks are now moving back to the subject of Berlin after two weeks of talk about a Soviet demand that an interim Berlin settlement must be accompanied by the creation of a committee from the two Germans to work out their political fate. This linkage has not been dropped and the West remains firm against the tie-in of the two issues. But the Russians shifted their position and are ready to talk about Berlin for a while.

It was this Soviet readiness to return to the Berlin issue which moved Lloyd to try to maneuver the Big Four powers to the summit.

He arranged a busy day Monday. He invited the Big Four ministers to his town house for "a working tea" but before that he arranged separate talks with the Russians and with his western allies.

British spokesmen were speaking of Monday as the critical day of the conference.

25 Consign Sheep To Annual Sale

Twenty-five Nebraska sheep breeders have consigned 101 rams and 57 yearling ewes for sale at the 23rd annual Sheep Day and Sale Aug. 7 at the State Fair Grounds.

The consigned animals represent 6 breeds—Hampshire, Shropshire, Southdowns, Cheviots, Suffolks, and Corriedales. The sale begins at 1 p.m.

The morning program begins at 9 a.m. with the judging of the rams and ewes entered in the show, followed by an explanation of the Nebraska ewe program by Morris Hemstrom, Extension animal husbandman at the University of Nebraska.

Wilbur Pauley of Harvard, will discuss spring lamb management for a farm flock of 300 ewes and M. A. Alexander, professor of animal husbandry at the University, will give a report on sheep experiments at the College of Agriculture.

"Your Wool Market—What It Is Doing" will be discussed by Leon G. Randolph, Midwest Wool Marketing Cooperative, Kansas, Mo.

Soil Tour Set Monday In Eastern Nebraska

... Will See 12 Experimental Plots

A soil fertility tour in eastern Nebraska Monday and Tuesday will feature stops at 12 experimental fields to point up ways of maintaining a productive soil nutrient level.

University of Nebraska Extension and research agronomists will conduct the tour of experimental and demonstration crop plots and fields at various locations in the eastern third of the state.

Attention will be focused particularly on corn, sorghums, soybeans and some type of pastures.

Participants are urged to take part in the entire tour. Those interested can join at any point during the two-day swing through eastern Nebraska.

The tour will begin at 10 a.m. Monday at the Agronomy Farm at 70th and Adams streets in Lincoln. Fertilizer on grain sorghums will be shown and discussed.

West Point
The tour will swing to West Point where a stop will be made at 1:45 p.m. to see a zinc fertilizer experiment on corn on newly leveled land. This experiment is located on the Kahler farm, 1.2 miles west of the junction of highways 32-275 near West Point.

The tour caravan is scheduled for the Louis Grevson farm, located 2 miles west of Stanton on highway 24, 2 miles south and one-half mile west, one south and 2 west. A sulfur experiment on corn will be shown and discussed.

Those attending will arrive at the Rueben Puls farm at 4:15 p.m. to see a fertilizer demonstration on pasture. Puls' farm is located one and one-half miles east of Hoskins on highway 35.

Corn Experiments
The last stop of the first day will be made at the Merlin Raabe farm at 5:15 p.m. to see phosphorus, potash, sulfur and zinc experiments on corn. The Raabe farm is located 2 miles north of the junction of highways 81-13 and one-half mile west.

Tour participants will stay overnight in Norfolk.

The first stop Tuesday will be at the Dean Kyes farm near Central City at 9 a.m. to see a phosphorus placement experiment on corn. Kyes' farm is located 3 miles west, two and one-half north and one-quarter west of the junction of highways 14-92 north of Central City.

Another stop will be made at 11:40 a.m. on the Kyes farm located 4 miles west, one and three-fourths miles north of the junction of highways 14-92. Phosphorus placement experiments on corn again will be shown.

The tour caravan will arrive at the outstate testing experiment on corn near Osceola at 11 a.m. This experiment is located on the Norris Larson farm 1 mile west and 1.7 miles north of Osceola.

At 11:40 a.m. the tour will arrive at the Burke farm located 2 miles west of the junction of highways 66-81 where a zinc experiment on newly bench leveled ground will be shown.

A sorghum demonstration will be viewed at the John Matejka farm at 2 p.m. Matejka's farm is located 2 miles west of Ohiowa on highway 74.

A stop at the Joe Kovar farm 2 miles west and 1 mile north of Wilber will be made at 3:10 p.m. An outstate testing experiment on corn showing a nitrogen carrier study will be shown.

The final stop of the two-day tour will be made at 4:15 p.m. on the Howard Miller farm to see a zinc experiment on corn on recently leveled land. Miller's farm is located 7 miles north, rom the curve on highway 6 at Dorchester and then 4 miles west and one and one-half miles south.

-STATE PATROL- Continuing Crackdown Halts 38

The Nebraska Safety Patrol continued its relentless crackdown on those who would violate the state's highway laws as 38 persons were halted in Lancaster and Seward Counties Saturday night and Sunday morning.

The "baby" crackdown had only 4 cars on the road in the two counties, according to Safety Patrol Captain Dan Casey.

Of the 38 halted between 8 p.m. Saturday and 3 a.m. Sunday, 6 were arrested and summoned to court. Of the 6 arrests, 3 were for speeding, one was for drunk driving; one for driving without a muffler, and one for running a stop sign.

Twenty-one violation cards were issued and 11 warning cards were given, Casey said.

Roads getting special attention from the Patrol were Seward southwest to Beaver Crossing; west on U.S. 34; on county roads between U.S. 34 and 6, and U.S. 34 between Lincoln Air Force Base and Lincoln.

Here's How To Calibrate Field Sprayer ... Extensionist Says

Farmers can calibrate their sprayer by following 9 simple operations, according to Delbert Lane, Extension agricultural engineer at the University of Nebraska.

1. Divide 43,560 by the width of the spray boom in feet. This will give the number of feet you must travel to cover one acre.
2. Measure off the distance for one acre. Measure half the distance and make one round, or one-fourth the distance and make 2 rounds.
3. Fill the spray tank with water and operate for several minutes to be sure all valves and nozzles are clean and discharging properly.
4. Again fill the spray tank and mark the water level in the tank, using a ruler or measuring stick.
5. Spray the measured acre at a normal tractor operating speed and at the pressure recommended for the spray job to be done. Note the throttle setting and pressure reading, so adjustments can be made if necessary.
6. After spraying the measured acre, carefully measure the amount of water required to refill the tank to its original level. This will be the rate of application per acre.
7. If rate of application is more or less than desired, make adjustments as suggested in note above and repeat test until desired rate of application is obtained.
8. Mark throttle setting and pressure reading so the same speed and pressure can be used in operating the sprayer when chemicals are added.
9. Add chemicals according to formula recommended for spray calendar.

Hawaiians Excited About Upcoming Elections

By Margrethe Plum
 "The Hawaiians are terribly excited and enthusiastic because now they're electing their own people" for state government posts.

This was the report Dorothy Pile, director of the Southwest Community Center, brought back after attending rousing Republican and Democratic political rallies while visiting the Hawaiian Islands this summer.

For two weeks during June, Miss Pile and Mary Jane Young, case supervisor of the Lincoln Lancaster County Child Guidance Center, were guest of the Charles Young family.

News Reporter

Young, who is a news reporter for the Honolulu Star Bulletin, is Miss Young's brother and lives on the island of Maui, the second largest of the Hawaiian Islands.

It was while the Misses Pile and Young were on Maui that the rallies were held. All the people running for office on the Democratic ticket, some 1,000 of them, were present at one big Hawaiian feast-rally.

"The Hawaiians are wonderful people, and are very excited about being the 50th state."

"I visited a second grade class in one of the schools. The children were told to write a story on the black-board while I talked with the teacher. And when I looked at the board to see the story, they had written 'Hawaii is a state. Hawaii has achieved statehood.'"

Folk Dancing

"At another school I taught a 7th grade class folk dancing. To me this was very exciting. There was only one Caucasian in the group of 24 children, and she was the daughter of our host, Mr. Young."

"The others were Japanese, Portuguese or a mixture of nationalities. We were all learning together, all dancing Norwegian, German, and English folk dances. It was a thrilling two days."

The two travelers arrived in Hawaii on Memorial Day. "We arrived at 6:40 a.m.," explained Miss Pile, "and at 9 a.m. we were being interviewed on a radio show. We were asked questions about youth, their activities and juvenile delinquency."

One day, the ladies accompanied Mr. Young on a tour of Maui Island while he was getting information for a column he writes for the Honolulu paper.

"We got a very interesting view of the island. We met all kinds of people and saw how they lived."

"I'm completely sold on the islands," concluded Miss Pile.

BLACK-GARBED YOUTHS ROCK SWEDISH CITY

Kristianstad, Sweden (UPI)—Scores of young "hotrod hoodlums" threatened Sunday night to "tear this place apart" in a repetition of the drunken rioting Saturday night in which 20 persons were injured and part of the city made a shambles.

The young toughs presumably came here for the Grand Prix Motorcycling Races, but police said they were evidently more interested in liquor and violence than the sporting event.

Among 40 persons arrested in night-long riotings were two teen-age girls who drunkenly cavorted through the streets stripped to the waist.

Police estimated about 200 of the toughs and their girls were still in town.

They strutted through the streets wearing black caps, black jeans, and black leather jackets. Some said their idol was actor Marlon Brando.

Jet Sets Record

London (AP)—Pan American Airways announced a Boeing 707 intercontinental jetliner flew from Moscow to London in 3 hours 13 minutes. Officials claimed it was the fastest flight between the two capitals. Russia's TU104 on the London-Moscow route schedules 4 hours 20 minutes for the run, including a 50-minute stop at Prague.

Johannesburg (AP)—Sunburn may be a cause of skin cancer, the president of the South African National Cancer Assn. told a meeting of the group here. Dr. Lewis Robertson said white South Africans have the highest known death rate from skin cancer.

Watch Cuba, U.S. Advised

Washington (UPI) — Two Republican senators said Sunday the U.S. must keep a constant close eye on developments in Cuba and the possibility of Communist infiltration in the regime of Fidel Castro.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.), a member of the Senate internal security subcommittee, said in his weekly radio broadcast for New York stations that "It is a situation we cannot ignore."

Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) wrote in his weekly newsletter that if the Communists are working within Castro's movement, "The Western Hemisphere is confronted with its most serious threat of Communist infiltration since the Reds were tossed out of Guatemala" in 1954.

"Nothing would make the Communist leaders happier than to obtain control of a Western Hemisphere nation and gain a firm foothold in the economic life of the Americas," Mundt wrote.

Mundt said the State Department is closely watching Cuban developments and Castro. Despite the Cuban leader's popularity, Mundt said, "There is a growing suspicion of his intentions and connections by his neighbors in this country and other nations of the Americas."

Resolution's Storm Flags Unperceived

Washington (AP)—Explosive Russian reaction has left the red faced about the way it brushed off the captive nations resolution.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has made President Eisenhower's proclamation for a week of observance for the peoples of Iron Curtain countries the basis of bitter jibes directed at Vice President Richard Nixon.

But in its July 6 passage of the resolution directing the President to issue the proclamation which soured Nixon's Moscow reception, the Senate gave the measure about as much attention as it usually gives to the most routine of noncontroversial bills.

Senators, who like to think they are members of the greatest deliberative body in the world, deliberated less than two minutes over a proposal that has caused a greater uproar in the Communist world than any recent action taken by Congress.

Power Politics Spices Vienna Youth Festival

Vienna (UPI)—A group of American delegates to the Communist-run seventh World Youth Festival fought back Sunday against "crass" Red attempts to block accreditation of the bulk of the U.S. delegation.

The struggle for control of the U.S. delegation was waged behind the scenes as the festival officially opened at Vienna's giant sports stadium with a parade of some 17,000 youths from nearly 100 countries.

One U.S. delegate declared that the festival organizers had "vulgarily attempted to take over the meeting."

He said that festival officials had declared accreditation cards for the U.S. delegation invalid because of the alleged theft of 150 cards.

Sunday, 120 cards were issued to a picked group who, the delegate charged, were pro-Communists.

Burglar Turns Author

Tokyo (AP)—After completing a prison term for 80 crimes including burglaries, fraud and embezzlement, Ko Nakamura showed up at Tokyo police station with a 300-page manuscript he wrote while behind bars. Entitled "A Robber's Diary," Nakamura told police he wrote the detailed account of his activities to convince himself that crime does not pay.

Truck Sought In Bus Crash

Ladysmith, Va. (UPI) — State police searched Sunday for a mysterious red truck which sideswiped a Greyhound bus and sent it crashing head-on into a car, killing 3 persons and injuring 26.

Bus driver R. W. Warthan described the truck as a red, flat-bed tractor trailer. The victims of the collision, which occurred on U.S. 1 during a heavy rainstorm, were the occupants of the car, 3 vacationing Marines from Miami, Fla.

Warthan said the truck sideswiped the bus as it was passing the flat-bed, shoving the big southbound double-deck "Sceni-Cruiser" into the wrong traffic lane where it collided with the car and pushed it 100 feet along the shoulder of the road.

East Berlin Courts Imprison Workers

Berlin (AP)—Two East Berlin railway workers have been sent to prison—one for 10 years, the other for 6—by a Communist Court on sabotage charges, the communist party newspaper Neues Deutschland said.

The two men destroyed valuable railway equipment, "guided by hatred against our state by RIAS," it said. RIAS is the American-sponsored radio station in West Berlin—favorite target of Communist attacks in past years.

Humanity's Spark Not Gone

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Young people today lack the "stuff" of former generations which made this a great nation. Or do they? George Moyer is a young man just beginning to test his "stuff" in the newspaper business. Here is his idea, as he wrote it, of how young America stacks up against the youth of a previous century:

A friend of ours—lawyer by trade and old-timer by persistence and intestinal fortitude—got to questioning today's Nebraskans during the course of a conversation about changing times. He wanted to know what had happened to the sturdy pioneer—the fellow with the courage to take a chance on packing up all he owned, dumping a family of five in on top of the wagon, and taking off for a place he had never seen before to make himself a new life. In view of the great American chase for "security," the question was a pretty good one. We know a lot of young people whose concept of success goes no further than "an automobile, a house, and a good steady income."

So we paused for a little thought and some research. Out of the mist that surrounds today's young folks, we think these channel markers can be heard.

In the first place, that sturdy pioneer with his wife and children stacked on top of the Conestoga was looking for security, too. He left the dirty, cramped benches of Ellis Island, the grimy rookeries of the sweat shop, the grinding poverty of the slums to find a place where he could at least be sure that the hand that passed to his mouth every day held bread instead of garbage. When the land in Nebraska and other western states was all parcelled out and the frontier closed, this pioneer fought for his security in the Homestead strike, the Pullman strike, the Ford strike and many others. He transformed his steel and stone city jungle into the urban America of the three-bedroom house and the shopping center.

In the second place, some of the sturdy pioneers weren't so sturdy back East. These folks came West looking for security of a different kind—they didn't care if the air they breathed was fresh and sharp with prairie dew just so long as they didn't smell a pursuing federal marshal in it.

In the third place, some of these pioneers were really the hardy souls our crusty friend believed them to be. They had the ambition, the drive, and the ruthless courage to create empires—but they were few, just as few as they are now.

So the man with the courage to gamble hasn't really disappeared. He's just shifted his scene of operations with the times. When he could no longer go West, he stayed in the East and remade it into what he was looking for.

And the empire builders haven't disappeared, either. They are still around and just as tough and just as capable as they were in 1895. They have traded their six-shooters for slide-rules and stock tickers. They have traded their buckskins for gray flannel and sports shirts. They have traded their strike-breakers for public relations men and they give to charity through tax-exempt foundations instead of passing out dimes to kids along Broadway. But there are still no more of them now per capita than there were in 1895.

Back then there were J. P. Morgans and Andrew Carnegies. Right now there are Henry J. Kaisers and Henry Ford, Jr. And the important thing is not that everybody be one but that there at least be that opportunity. For some men find security in "an automobile, a house and a good steady income," while for others it takes 10,000 head of cattle on feed, 30,000 square feet of factory, or 5,000 acres of wheat.

Another interesting fact is that Ike is staging a repeat dinner tonight, with the following chosen few among the guests: John O'Brien, Philadelphia Inquirer; Roscoe Drummond, columnist; William Stringer, Christian Science Monitor; Bob Roth, Philadelphia Bulletin; and Arthur Krock, New York Times.

At the first dinner, the chosen few repaired immediately afterward to the Statler Hotel, where they rented a room and prepared a comprehensive memo on everything Ike said. Then they decided what could and should be printed. A coin was flipped to see whether the story would be released to A.M. or P.M. papers. The P.M.'s won.

This was how Eisenhower leaked at his private dinner for newsmen. Here is how GOP Chairman Morton leaked at his private dinner for which the White House bawled him out:

Ike never really took command of the Republican party.

packers to dispose of the surplus of hogs without an adverse effect on the retail pork market. Such benefits as ensued went to the packers, not to the producers who watched their herds disappear into the slaughter pens at distress prices.

Such a procedure may be of momentary benefit to the packer but in the long run it does him hardly more good than the producer. Radically fluctuating sources of supply—feast and famine operation, is a poor prospect for the heavily invested packer. He is too deeply rooted to chase his source of supply all around the map.

One need only look at the deplorable condition of the poultry industry to see the sad consequences of shifting production, oversupply, and distressing low producer prices. It is an arrangement which in the end makes all parties the loser.

to the national economy. Where it performed a redemptive service the REA movement opened a new economic field in farm electric service.

So, too, have the great multipurpose dams turned barren places into fountains of new production. Together all of these things have pioneered new fields for national growth.

Now at a time when national demands are more pressing and inflation is threatening it is shortsighted to curb the greatest of forces which historically can supply balance. It is folly to believe the current economic problems can be successfully attacked by tinkering with fiscal and monetary formulae. That will only reallocate what already exists and is a distributive activity rather than a remedial one. When great burdens such as national defense unbalance the economy the remedy is to increase the national wherewithal. That requires the conversion of more human and material resources.

Not Necessarily So

Dr. Edward Teller, distinguished American scientist has come to the conclusion that Russia will get farther and farther ahead in the field of science. He bases it on what he considers the fact that a free society does not enforce a compulsion upon people as a totalitarian society does. Freedom of choice, therefore, will never emphasize science as will Russian regimentation.

For the purpose of a drawing room debate any hypothesis is a satisfactory one so long as one can build logic upon it. But Dr. Teller's conclusion can be as wrong as it is dismal.

A minority, considerably disunited, and not too scholarly a group started out to make a pioneering living in a new and forbidding land some 300 years ago. The main thing they did not have was regimented compulsion. In fact they didn't even have a clear idea of where it would end. Under Dr. Teller's logic the group could have been written off. But surprisingly enough the result was present day United States—one of the great enlightened powers of history.

Ike To Have Press Back More Often

WASHINGTON — Interesting fact apropos the President's off-the-record dinner for a few chosen newsmen is that Sen. Thruston Morton of Kentucky, the GOP national chairman, had a similar dinner with newsmen and got bawled out for it by the White House.

At the first dinner, the chosen few repaired immediately afterward to the Statler Hotel, where they rented a room and prepared a comprehensive memo on everything Ike said. Then they decided what could and should be printed. A coin was flipped to see whether the story would be released to A.M. or P.M. papers. The P.M.'s won.

This was how Eisenhower leaked at his private dinner for newsmen. Here is how GOP Chairman Morton leaked at his private dinner for which the White House bawled him out:

Ike never really took command of the Republican party.

MARQUIS CHILDS

World In Darkness As Press Stifled

WASHINGTON — It can scarcely have escaped the most casual newspaper reader that news of areas where day-to-day events may tip the balance between peace and war is coming at second—or third-hand. The map of the world is beginning to show as many black patches, marking territory unknown, as it did before the age of exploration and expansion.

This is pointed up by the struggle going on in Iraq between the forces of General Abdul Kassem and the Communists. The news of that struggle, which can have decisive consequences in the middle East, is being reported from Lebanon.

Just a year ago, with no warning whatsoever, and apparently to the complete surprise of western diplomats, a pro-western regime in Bagdad was erased. First-hand reporting has since then been made difficult, if not impossible.

On the information map the blackness is almost total in the vast land mass of China, in Tibet and in the Chinese dependencies of Viet-Nam, one or two British correspondents function under severe restraints in Peking and occasionally Canadian, Indian or other free-world journalists are allowed to make carefully guided tours. The press within China is a completely controlled propaganda press.

In Soviet Russia and the satellites, the last few years have seen some improvement insofar as travel and other facilities for Western journalists are concerned. But censorship of all outgoing dispatches—an exception is made for reporters accompanying Vice-Presi-

ty. "The first surrender was at Morningside Heights," said Morton, referring to Eisenhower's adoption of the Taft program in the fall of 1952. "After that there were a lot of other surrenders."

The budget estimates for 1961 are shocking, the GOP national chairman told dinner guests. The budget figure, he said, will be "pretty close" to $82 billion, and he's terribly worried over the prospect of the GOP going into the 1960 election with an unbalanced budget. . . . Senator Morton is afraid Ike is going to get "veto happy" and slap Congress with so many vetoes that he'll give the impression of a "negative administration." (This is what the Senate liberals have been telling Lyndon Johnson—namely that Eisenhower can use his veto too often.) . . . Ike refers to the veto as his "veto pistol," according to Morton.

Vice President Nixon is pretty sure to get the GOP nomination in 1960, Morton said. Nixon has about 80 per cent of the GOP prob behind him. They are the boys who make up the national convention and they're plugging for Nixon. Rockefeller doesn't have much chance to overtake him unless Nixon makes a very poor showing in the polls or in the primaries.

Wonders Of The Universe

Young space enthusiasts working out of their home laboratories can now compute the size and characteristics of a rocket system that could travel to the moon and return to Earth.

A new circular slide rule developed by my good friend Dandridge Cole, will be used by scientists, but the simple device can also answer many questions for curious teenagers with space travel ambitions.

Mr. Cole, a senior advanced planning specialist with the Martin Company in Denver, has been concerned with the so-called "rule of thumb" used by some to compute rocket sizes. The results obtained by this oversimplified method were simply too far from reality. There was incentive to create a new tool for rough computations of this sort.

The device is uncomplicated, consisting of a two-sided circular slide rule. You put in some values, spin the wheels and out come the answers.

Suppose, for example, using current hardware and propellants, I would like to "soft land" and instrument package on the moon to telemeter back to earth intelligence concerning the lunar surface.

By using the slide rule I find a three-stage, 1,000,000-pound gross weight rocket burning liquid oxygen and kerosene propellants would have the capability to soft land 1,600 pounds of payload on the moon. The slide rule gives only the gross or all-up weight of the rocket. For details I apply some simple general principles of rocketry.

Rocket engineers know that very roughly they can divide a multi-stage rocket into proportional weights. They do this by first finding the gross weight to payload ratio, and then finding the root of this ratio according to the number of stages. In our example we have three stages and a ratio of 1,000,000 to 1,600 or approximately 625. The cube root (three stages) of 625 is 8.55. (That is, 8.55 times 8.55 times 8.55 equals 625). Thus, the ratio for each separate stage is 8.55.

The upper stage (including payload) will then weigh 8.55 times 1,600 or 13,700 pounds. The second stage (including its payload which is the third stage) will weigh 8.55 times 13,700 or 117,000 pounds. The first stage and its payload will weigh 8.55 times 117,000 or 1,000,000 pounds — the total weight of the rocket.

A second general principle (which also comes with the slide rule) for a rocket operating in gravity-free, airless space is that the velocity, change capability of each stage should be capable of developing one-third of the mission velocity. In practice, because of atmospheric and gravity losses, the first stage will reach only 60% of the velocity attained by a similar rocket with no losses.

To find the velocity capability of an upper stage, we divide the mission velocity (44,000 feet per second for lunar landing) by 2.6 rather than three. This gives us approximately 17,000 feet per second apiece for each of the upper stages. The rocket will acquire a velocity equal to 60% of 17,000 of 10,000 feet per second during first-stage burning.

A third general rule of rocketry will tell us the engine thrust required. As a first estimate, it is reasonable to assume a thrust of weight ratio of 1.5:1. Thus, the first-stage rocket engine of a 1,000,000-pound rocket should have a thrust of close to 1.5 million pounds. A second stage rocket does not need such a high thrust to weight ratio since it has less work to do against gravity. The thrust can be equal to the weight or even lower. The third stage of a lunar landing rocket needs a thrust of only about 25 per cent of its weight because of the low gravity of the moon.

This rocket problem we have just solved is close on the track of the real thing. The Army Ballistic Missile Agency is developing a Saturn rocket system that may put our 1,600-pound payload on the moon in two years.

The Saturn uses a cluster of eight engines in its first stage developing close to 1.5 million pounds.

This is only one of many space problems that can be worked out with the slide rule. You can design a system to orbit the earth or on to reach Mars.

If you would like this free slide rule, write:

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: WHICH SHOULD LINCOLN GIVE FIRST CONSIDERATION TO IN THE MATTER OF A NEW SWIMMING POOL, NEED OR FINANCIAL STANDING?

The purpose of this column is to inform and sometimes entertain by presenting a cross-section of the viewpoint of the general public and to give anyone an opportunity to express himself on any subject. Contributors need no professional writing skill as grammatical or spelling errors are corrected prior to publication. To help stimulate a greater interest in current events or to provide discussion of interesting areas of life, The Star submits today a question on which it invites future reader comment. Suggested questions from readers are welcomed.

Demo Senators

Lincoln, Neb.

Walter Lippmann wisely remarks that the business of the Democratic party is to plan for the future. The party in Congress has done everything but that. The party has presented the spectacle in Congress of following Eisenhower. Reluctantly, compromisingly, but following. This is bad for the country and bad for the party. The Democrats in Congress have the responsibility to the country and to the people who elected them. These things are certainly not being done by the administration. The Democratic leadership should push through the legislation necessary in the estimation of the leaders. If the President vetoes it, it becomes an issue.

The Democrats are never going to win in 1960 by following along after a Republican President. Paul Butler, our national committeeman, is absolutely right in the criticism of the Democratic Congress. At the rate we are going in 1960 we are going to be neither fish nor fowl, neither liberals or conservatives and we will share a responsibility for policies we never formulated.

The President started out to lead a grand crusade for health, education and public welfare. Now he is finishing out his term on a radical deflationary, hard money program. This program will inevitably bring us hard times and unemployment. The present high interest rates alone are enough to kill our promising business revival. If the Democrats go along with the President we shall assume half the responsibility that this policy is likely to produce.

We have an abundance of sound issues. What the party seems to lack is guts and imagination.

Plenty Of Good

McCook, Neb.

Each time I hear or read of a teenager committing a real crime, I can not help but think — just what has happened or what did he or she see that led to this. But those that sin must be rebuked before all, that others also may fear and be turned to the right. The matured adult knows that these things command and teach much more than public praise. We do not fight the right but the evil that keeps lurking at the right, which sometimes turns to be a great struggle before concluded.

I am sincerely thankful that our newspapers do not have their front pages "plastered" with the rightful doings and good acts of each day. We are so surrounded with these that we do not have to hear or even see them to know they are here. If these things became so uncommon and so scarce that our news editors began considering them as front page news, our country would be in a very sad position.

The biggest majority do good because they love righteousness and the peace of mind and good will feeling that go with it, although letters like Judy Greely's (Star, March 10) and Kenneth Jackson's (Star, July 16) do act as reminders to those who will not take the time to see for themselves that the world is just chock-full of good, honest, upright teenagers.

The Case Of The Curious Key

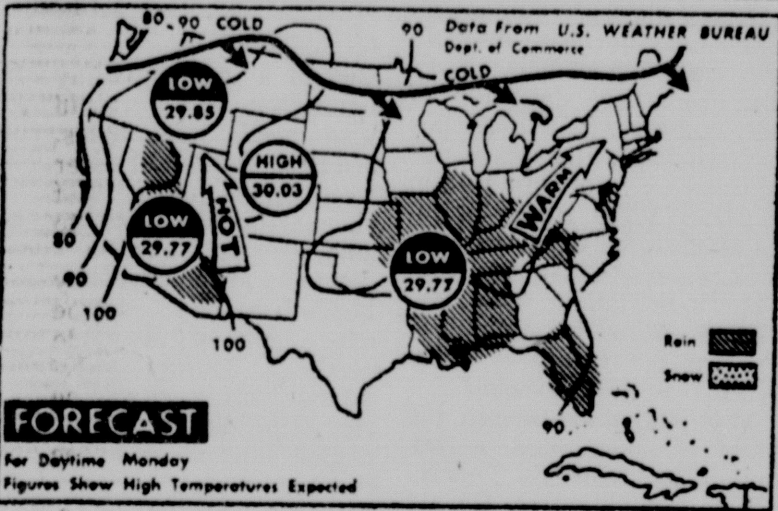

York, Neb. (UPI) — Chuck Bradwell, York, reported to authorities that his car had been stolen.

But within an hour, the car was back, parked only a few parking places away from where Bradwell had left it.

There was a key in the ignition, but not Bradwell's key.

It was later learned that a mechanic at a nearby garage had given a customer a key and told him to use a car parked on the street while his was being repaired. He pointed to a car parked at the curb.

The customer thought he indicated Bradwell's car, got in and tried the key. It worked.

23 SCOUTS PACK AND LEAVE ON 9-DAY CANOEING VOYAGE

North Platte, Neb. (P)—Just what 23 boys ordered — woods, canoeing, fishing and camping out.

The boys, from North Platte, Theedford, Culbertson, Elwood, Imperial and Oxford, traveled by chartered bus Sunday to Ely, Minn., site of the National Boy Scout Canoe Base.

The Tri-Trails Boy Scout group will divide into two crews Monday and set out for expeditions near the Canadian border.

Judging by the amount of rods and poles, the boys are expecting to get in a lot of fishing during their 9-day expedition.

This is the 5th year a group of scouts from the Tri-Trails

Narrow Escape

Omaha (P)—An Omaha pilot escaped injury Sunday when a new 5-place plane developed landing gear trouble on take-off at Omaha airport and crashed. The plane skidded about 500 feet after the mishap occurred. Chuck Badger was taking off at the time for a trip to Grand Island. Damage to the plane was estimated at $3,000.

VA Says Vets Must Tell Change Of Dependency

The Veterans Administration has reminded disabled veterans receiving extra compensation for dependents that they must report promptly any change of dependency.

A. H. Duxbury, manager of the Lincoln VA Regional Office, said if veterans fail to report the changes all overpayments of compensation are subject to recovery by the government.

He said that additional payments because of dependents are authorized by law for veterans whose service-connected disabilities are rated at 50% or more.

WHAT MAKES CHEVY HOT?

"THE MOST WONDERFULLY RESPONSIVE ENGINE AVAILABLE TODAY AT ANY PRICE"

That's how SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED magazine expresses its admiration for Chevy's vigorous Turbo-Fire V8. Indeed, every motor magazine has given Chevrolet's standard passenger car and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. Take it from the experts: there's no more exciting performance in Chevy's field. What's more, you can choose from the widest range of powerplants among the leading low-priced three when you go Chevy!

HERE ARE 6 MORE BIG REASONS WHY CHEVROLET'S THE HOTTEST SELLER OF THE YEAR!

BEST BRAKES

Not only bigger, but built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. Just to prove what's what, Chevy out-stopped both of the "other two" in a NASCAR*-conducted test of repeated stops from highway speeds.

*National Association for Stock Car Advancement and Research

BEST STYLE

It's the only car of the leading low-priced three that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, "a new high in daring styling."

BEST TRADE-IN

Check the figures in any N.A.D.A.* Guide Book. Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two."

*National Automobile Dealers Assn.

BEST ECONOMY

No doubt about it: two Chevrolet 6's won their class in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, got the best mileage of any full-size car, 22.38 miles per gallon—with Power-glide transmission.

BEST RIDE

MOTOR TREND magazine calls Chevy "...the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." But you'll be able to tell this yourself, the instant you take the wheel.

BEST ROOM

Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.* make this clear. For example, Chevy front seat hip room is up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars.

*Automobile Manufacturers Assn.

NO WONDER MORE PEOPLE ARE BUYING CHEVROLETS IN 1959 THAN ANY OTHER CAR!

Norfolk Center Looks For Home

Norfolk, Neb. (P)—The Norfolk Opportunity Center, which expects a record enrollment of 24 retarded boys and girls this fall, is looking for new quarters.

The State Fire Marshal's office informed Opportunity Center officials that the present location can no longer be used because of its fire hazard.

Mrs. Norman Sorensen of the center said it was hoped that suitable quarters could be found on the ground floor of a building, but she had no knowledge of such quarters available.

A Wedding In Paris

MRS. KEITH REAGAN LEECH

Against a background of all-white blossoms the wedding of Miss Judith Cooper Hughes, daughter of Mr. Morris Nelson of the American Embassy, Paris, France, and Keith Reagan Leech, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Leech of Humboldt, took place on Tuesday afternoon, July 21, at the American Cathedral in Paris. The 4 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. William H. Wagner, B.D., Canon of the American Cathedral, Church of the Holy Trinity.

Mrs. Kenneth Solars of Chula Vista, Calif., was her sister's matron of honor and was frocked in a floral print of silk organza in tones of pink. A white velvet bow was worn in her hair, and she carried a bouquet of white lilies. Mrs. Regis Farjon of Paris, the bridesmatron, appeared in a frock styled identically to that worn by the matron of honor.

Regis Farjon served as best man, and seating the guests were George Andrews, Jr., Ross Parr, Lewis Link, Charles Selak, John A. Burke and Richard B. Moon, all of Paris.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white, re-embroidered Alencon lace and tulle. The long-sleeved bodice, embroidered with iridescent sequins and minute pearls, was designed with a squared neckline, contoured with scallops of the lace, and narrowed to a slender waist. The lace was repeated in the redingote which drifted over the voluminous skirt and revealed a front panel fashioned of tiers of minutely pleated tulle which swept to the back in a froth of tulle.

Following the reception, held in the Grand Salon and the garden at the Paris residence of American Ambassador Amory Houghton and Mrs. Houghton, Mr. Leech and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to Switzerland, Italy, Austria, Germany and France.

After Sept. 1, Mr. and Mrs. Leech will reside in Lincoln, where both are students at the University of Nebraska. The bride formerly attended Mount Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass., and the University of Paris at the Sorbonne. At Nebraska Mrs. Leech is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. Mr. Leech is a graduate student in clinical psychology at Nebraska, and is a member of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity.

NEWS OF SUBURBIA

Former Coed Is Bride

MRS. HENRY THOMAS MATHEWS, JR.

A 2 o'clock ceremony on Saturday afternoon, July 25, the marriage of Miss Mary Lou Haessler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Haessler of Leshara, to Henry Thomas Mathews, Jr., of Omaha, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thomas Mathews of Glenview, Ill., took place at Christ the King Church in Omaha. The Rev. Father Miester solemnized the service before a background of white gladioli.

Miss Bernadine Grasso, the maid of honor, and bridesmaids Mrs. George Thompson of Lincoln; Mrs. Gerald Hammang of Fremont; Miss Nancy Allen of Valley and Miss Mary Frances Summick of Waterloo, appeared in alike frocks of champagne-toned silk faille. Designed in sheath mode, the fitted costumes had back panels of frock-toned chiffon.

Gerald Walsh served as best man, and seating the guests were John Haessler of Leshara, brother of the bride; Gerald Hammang of Fremont, Robert Davidson of Cairo, and Artie Abariotes. The bride's gown of silk organza was patterned with an applique of silk bombazine in a leaf motif. The bombazine leaves, dusted with pearls and iridescent sequins, contoured the portrait neckline of the bracelet-sleeved bodice. The bombazine also fashioned a cummerbund at the slender waist beneath which the skirt, worn over layers of tulle, was exceedingly bouffant and completed with a chapel train. Her triple-tiered veil of imported illusion was held to the head with a crown of iridescent sequins and seed pearls, and she carried a cascade of white orchids encircled with stephanotis.

Mr. Mathews and his bride, following a honeymoon trip to Colorado and Lake Okoboji, will reside in Omaha.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, where she is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority, and attended Omaha University. Mr. Mathews was graduated from Coe College, Rapid City, Ia., and is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

COTNER TERRACE

Heard from the stork that the newest member of the young set in Cotner Terrace is Michael John Siems, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Siems. Mrs. Siems was the former Doris Lenz. Michael arrived July 18 at St. Elizabeth's Hospital. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Siems, and the maternal grandfather is Mr. Jess Lenz, all of Beatrice. The Siems have a daughter, Judy Claire, 3.

Water skiing was the highlight of a vacation for Mr.

and Mrs. Boyd Ready. Mr. and Mrs. Ready recently returned after traveling through Colorado. They were accompanied on their trip by Mr. Ready's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Horton of Boulder, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Ready's two sons, Boyd and Mike, have been visiting out in California, but they drove from California to Boulder with their uncle, Mr. Robert Ready, and met their parents at the Horton home in order to return to Lincoln with them.

More news from the stork tells us of another young member of the talcum powder set in Cotner Terrace. She is Miss Mary Jane Lartz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lartz, and she arrived July 18 at Providence Hospital. Ardent admirers of their sister are Lucky Larry, 13, Tommy, 11, and Linda Marie, 7.

The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Lartz of York, and the maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. August Jensen, also of York. Mrs. Lartz was formerly Marie Jensen.

Quite a group attended the birthday celebration Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leland W. Ward. A dinner was held honoring Mrs. Ward's mother, Mrs. Ed McGaugh, who was the birthday celebrant. Included in the festivities were Mrs. McGaugh and her daughter, Deloris, of Burr, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dierks of Sterling, Mr. and Mrs. Gay McGaugh and children, Sharol, Connie, and Roland of Cook, Eddie McGaugh and Arve Trenary, both of Omaha, and Richard Dierks and Coleen Bogema, both of Lincoln.

Brides At Sunday Evening Ceremonies

MRS. ALLAN KREJCI

Cathedral candles and arrangements of white cysanthemums formed the background for the wedding of Miss Shirley Ann Stutheit of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Stutheit of Cook, and Allan Krejci, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Krejci of Schuyler, which took place on Sunday evening, July 26, at the Redeemer Lutheran Church, in Lincoln. The Rev. Melvin Tassler solemnized the 8 o'clock ceremony and Miss Rena Olson played the wedding music. Wayne Wiegert was the vocal soloist.

Miss Sylvia Stutheit, her sister's maid of honor; and the bridesmaids, Miss Heralda Schlieft of Denver, and Miss Carrol Biba, wore alike frocks of silk organza in the frosted turquoise shade. Their bouquets were fashioned of white asters accented with yellow. Janie Stoker of Ashland was the flower girl, and Ronnie Stoker, also of Ashland, was the ringbearer.

Ronald Krejci of Neligh served as best man, and the ushers were Roy Stutheit of Cook, and Dean Heermann.

The bride appeared in a gown of schiffli embroidered tulle over satin. The bodice, designed with a sabrina neckline that slipped into brief sleeves, was snugly fitted above the voluminous skirt styled in the redingote mode to reveal a ruffled tulle flounce. Her veil of imported illusion was held to the head with a queen's crown, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and yellow rosebuds.

Following a reception Mr. Krejci and his bride left for a honeymoon trip after which they will reside at 3432 Mohawk St., Lincoln.

The bride is a graduate of Nebraska State College at Peru, and attended the University of Nebraska graduate school. Mr. Krejci is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and is a member of Theta Chi fraternity.

For the wedding of Miss Mary McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McDonald, and Thomas Livingston Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Brown of San Diego, Calif., which took place on Sunday evening, July 26, the church of the First Methodist Church was appointed with arrangements of white daisies, white pom poms and pink roses. The Rev. Joe Riley of Wichita, Kan., read the lines of the 8 o'clock service, and Miss Mildred Oshlund played the wedding music.

Silk organza, in the horizon blue shade, was chosen for the alike frocks of the attendants including Mrs. James Zaroban of Hastings, the matron of honor; Miss Julie Belden, the maid of honor, and bridesmaids Miss Emily Hart, Miss Jeanette Mook and Miss Norma Stahl.

Oren Robinson of Sheridan, Wyo., served as best man, and seating the guests were James Zaroban of Hastings; Neil G. Hart of Elgin, Ill.; Raymond G. Galloway of Detroit, Mich., and Avery M. Bennett.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta. Lace fashioned the long-sleeved bodice, designed with a portrait neckline, and was repeated to drift, kerchief fashion, over the bouffant skirt of tulle. A crown of pearls and iridescent paillettes held in place her shoulder-length veil of Chantilly lace, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses, sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

Upon their return from a honeymoon trip Mr. Brown and his bride will reside at 3500 Everett St., Lincoln.

The bride is a former student at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

Russians Eye U.S. Styles

Three of Russia's top fashion authorities learned about American glamor last week, as they paid a surprise visit to the New York Dress Institute fall style showings here. They gazed with polite disbelief at bare-backed evening gowns and fabulous brocade dinner dresses.

Most of the 240 fashion editors here for the press week showings made a bee-line for the Russians when they appeared in the ballroom during the Edward Abbott showing of strictly elegant day and evening fashions.

"We have things like that in Moscow, too," said Alexi Kulichev, bushy-haired director of the All Union House of Fashion in Moscow, speaking through an interpreter, as he gazed open-mouthed at a black velvet backless dinner dress.

"But they are worn mostly by actresses," sniffed Lydia Danilina, a Russian designer, who proudly said she had designed the dress she was wearing, a somewhat non-descript brown crepe.

"We know high fashion, but in Moscow the need is for clothes for women who work, not social butterflies," said Clara Pobedinskaja, a young and attractive designer, who also designed her own dress — a summer print with a permanently pleated skirt.

All three are in New York in connection with the Russian exhibition at the coliseum. All spoke through an interpreter.

The first two collections they saw — Edward Abbott and Branell — featured the king of middle-price-range fashions that most American women buy. But there was plenty of glamor in both.

Wilson Folmar, designer for Abbott, concentrates on "allure at a glance" in his current fall collection, highlights of which are backless sheaths of velvet, satin or brocade, and dresses with revealing tops and full "parachute" skirts.

Branell shows a wearable collection of suave daytime clothes, climaxed by a group of dazzling evening outfits, many in metallic brocades.

After the showings the Russians obligingly posed for pictures with one of the Branell models. With various editors who had been interviewing them, they sat down to a Capitalist lunch, complete with more fashion shows.

Patio Party Celebrates Birthday

There is no better way to spend a warm July evening than on the patio, especially when a party is in progress, and more especially when the party celebrates a birthday. So it was that Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bryant were host and hostess at their home on Saturday evening when the birthday celebrant was none other than the host.

Candlelight Service

The chancel of the Polk Methodist Church was appointed with arrangements of white and yellow gladioli, and lavender asters, on Sunday evening, July 26, for the wedding of Miss Sharon Roberta Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Stevens of Polk, and Lloyd Lynn Benson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Benson, Lincoln. The lines of the candlelight service were read by the Rev. James Lane, and Mrs. Gary Bruening of Lincoln, organist, played the wedding music. The vocal soloist was LaMar Lind of Polk.

As the matron of honor, Mrs. Keene Hueftle of Lincoln, wore a daytime-length frock of yellow cotton fashioned with full, bell sleeves. She carried a colonial nosegay of lavender asters. Costumed identically were Miss Judy Johnson, the maid of honor, and the bridesmaid, Miss Joyce Stevens, both of Polk. Miss Deborah Gustafson was the flower girl.

Donald Gibson of Elkhorn, la., served as best man, and seating the guests were Lee Pasco, Lincoln; Douglas Smith, Chappell; and Gaylord Stevens, Hordville. David Stromberg was the ring-bearer.

The bride wore for her wedding a traditional gown of white tulle trimmed with imported lace. The sculptured bodice was designed with a Sabrina neckline, edged with lace, and abbreviated sleeves complemented by long mitts, and the lace motif was repeated in appliques on the skirt which was caught into fullness over ruffled tulle.

The couple will reside in Rochester, Minn., where the bridegroom, a graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan University and a member of Theta Chi fraternity, is studying physical therapy at the Mayo Clinic. Mrs. Benson also is a former student at Nebraska Wesleyan University and a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority.

Dear Abby . . .

The "Light" Of Her Life! Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Sometimes I wonder if maybe I am crazy for putting up with this man of mine. Everything has to be spic and span! He goes on an "inspection tour"—looks in all the corners and criticizes my housekeeping, but he never turns a hand to help me.

The other night he looked in my oven with a flashlight! He yelled and stormed because he found a little grease on the broiler. He made me scrub it at eleven o'clock that night.

Now he looks in the oven with a flashlight every day to make sure I cleaned it. What do you do with a nut like that? NUT'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Let him know that a little "light" on the subject is all right, but you can do without the "heat."

Clean your oven after each use and do the best job of housekeeping your time and energy will allow. If your husband still finds fault but refuses to turn a hand—you turn a deaf ear.

DEAR ABBY: I was the girlfriend on the side for 14 years. He told me he was treated rotten at home (it was a lie) so like a fool I gave up seeing everybody but him. His wife died. I thought at last he would marry me. But do you know what he said? He said I proved to him that I didn't have enough character to be respectable, and he could never trust me behind his back!

On June 12th he married a girl he knew only five weeks. This lesson cost me 14 of the best years of my life. Please print this for the benefit of all the girls who are waiting for a married man's wife to drop dead.

"EXPERIENCED"

DEAR ABBY: How many times does a woman have to turn a man down before he realizes that she wants nothing to do with him?

I am a widow, 56, but don't look it. He is a bachelor, 72, and looks it. This old geezer has told everybody in town that he is going to marry me. I can't go downtown any more without hearing it. He has money but has a reputation for being very stingy. I know for a fact that he has relatives on the other side of the track who are starving to death.

He sends me store flowers and calls every day asking me to go out with him. I have run out of excuses. How can I get him to leave me alone?

DEAR PESTERED: Quit giving him "excuses" and give him reasons. Tell him frankly, that he is wasting his time pursuing you because you do not intend to go out with him. If he calls you again repeat it.

DEAR ABBY: Can any of your readers help me? I am in my 20's and my hair is coming out by the handful. I had a baby five months ago and everyone says that's why it is coming out. Everytime I comb my hair so much hair comes out that I get scared to death. If I don't do something about it I won't have any hair left at all. I have had two other children and my hair never came out like this before so I'm afraid that isn't the answer. Please help me.

IN MY 20's DEAR IN: Go to your doctor and let him examine your scalp. Don't guess! In all probability something can be done for this condition. I recommend professional medical advice immediately.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

A Patio Party In Full Swing

A summer evening of fun was enjoyed by members of the Circle Eight Square Dance Club and their guests on Friday evening when they met for a barbecue supper and patio dance at the "Rancho Bar Nothin'" farm of the Bill Speidels.

New officers of the club served as official hosts for the affair, and Mr. Speidel assisted by Ken McCartney

Libel Suit Is Invited By Counsel

Washington (UPI) — Chief counsel Robert F. Kennedy of the Senate Rackets Committee Sunday recoiled off a list of accusations against James R. Hoffa and challenged the teamsters president to sue for libel if he could disprove them.

Appearing on a nationwide television program, Kennedy charged that Hoffa has "sold out" members of his union, misused union funds, made collusive deals with employers and put gangsters into important union posts.

Kennedy invited Hoffa to sue "immediately" and challenged him to agree to resign his union post if he lost the suit.

The youthful Kennedy monitored Hoffa's TV appearance before going on himself. Asked what he thought of Hoffa's performance, Kennedy said it was "most unfortunate" that Hoffa was not asked to make some accounting for his own acts and those of his chief lieutenants.

Capone Recalled

Kennedy said just as it would have been foolish for the U.S. attorney general to sit down with the late Al Capone to discuss tax legislation, so it was "not interesting to hear what Jimmy Hoffa has to say about labor reform."

"Hoffa is the chief reason" such a bill was considered in the first place, he said.

Kennedy also strongly supported the need for a labor reform bill. He said the work of the rackets committee would be "wasted and the headlines forgotten, and rightfully so, if no legislation is enacted."

He said there was no strong group "lobbying" for the reform bill and urged TV viewers to write or wire their congressmen in support of it.

Anniversary At Malcolm Draws 125

One hundred twenty five people attended the 75th anniversary services of the Malcolm Methodist Church Sunday.

Three former pastors of the church took part in the ceremony. Attending from California was the Rev. Ray Magnus. Also participating were the Rev. Harry McClellan and the Rev. W. Hadsell of Lincoln, two former Malcolm pastors, District Superintendent Harold Sandall, and Rodney Wilmoth, student pastor at the church.

During the afternoon ceremony, a history of the church was read and a memorial service for former ministers and members was held.

At the morning worship service, a new altar was presented to the church by the young adults.

According to historical records, Malcolm A. Showers organized the Methodist congregation in 1873 and was the first pastor. The first structure was erected in 1884 and is still in use today.

Christian Conference Condemns A-Testing

Accra, Ghana (AP) — The Ghana Christian Council Conference has adopted a resolution condemning the proposed French atom test in the Sahara. The resolution described the test as "very dangerous to human and animal existence in African countries south of the Sahara."

The Council, comprising all Christian denominations in Ghana except Roman Catholic, also adopted a resolution protesting racial discrimination in South Africa.

Two Girls Treated After Car Mishap

Two Lincoln girls were treated at a local hospital for bruises and abrasions received when they were involved in a car-pedestrian accident between 11th and 12th on G late Sunday afternoon.

Injured were Leona M. Gesiriech, 6, and her sister, Cleona, 12, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gesiriech, of 1143 G.

Driver of the car involved was Thomas S. Kurth, 24, of 812 South 14th.

They walked from between parked cars into the path of the Kurth car, which stopped with Leona underneath, police said. "It was amazing she wasn't hurt seriously," said Police Lt. R. J. McMean.

Cleona sustained bruises when she apparently was brushed by the car while attempting to pull the younger girl back, he said.

Como's Mom Ill

Pittsburgh (AP) — The mother of television star Perry Como was reported in serious condition at Mercy Hospital. Mrs. Lucia Como, 77, of nearby Canonsburg, underwent an operation recently for the removal of some infected tissue.

City Budget Hearings Again Today

Lincoln's City Council Monday begins the second week of hearings on the proposed $13 million budget.

Mayor Pat Boyles and the Council have instructed all departmental heads and directors of tax-supported budgets to report Monday on a priority basis those items which could be reduced to effect a 5% cut.

Council hearings on the preliminary budget began July 20.

A proposed budget must be adopted by the Council by about July 28. About Aug. 12 a public hearing will be held on the proposed budget.

Teamsters To Check On Voting

Washington (UPI) — Teamsters President James R. Hoffa said Sunday his giant union intends to enter the political arena by setting up a separate department at national headquarters here to tell its 1.6 million about the voting records of Congressmen.

The fast-talking Hoffa confirmed reports that the scandal-stricken union planned a new political program to try to defeat Senate and House members with anti-teamster voting records.

"The time has now arrived," he said, "that we must have a department to tell our members about the voting records of senators and congressmen on issues affecting their standard of living."

Denies 'Scare'

Asked if the move were designed to frighten the congressmen during their consideration of labor reform legislation, Hoffa snapped: "Absolutely not."

Hoffa said it had not yet been determined who would head the new department. He did not elaborate on his plans, but one report said the campaign would be financed by a "political checkoff" in which the rank-and-file teamster could earmark 50 cents of his monthly dues for political action.

All Not Well

Hoffa, the target of anti-corruption hearings by the Senate Rackets Committee, conceded that there are "some problems" in the Teamsters Union. But he said union officers accused of corruption would be "taken care of" after the committee expires this year.

The teamster president said the committee was "more interested in getting Hoffa" and in making headlines than it was in conducting an impartial investigation of labor-management relations.

Hoffa spent much of the time on his first nationwide television panel show denouncing the Senate-passed labor reform bill and the weaker measure approved last week by the House Labor Committee.

Nasser Eyes Israeli End

Alexandria, Egypt (UPI) — President Gamal Abdel Nasser said Sunday it is the dream of every Arab to wipe Israel off the map.

"We are awaiting aggression by Israel and any supporters of Israel. We will make it a decisive battle and get rid of Israel once and for all," Nasser told a huge rally.

He warned again that the United Arab Republic never will permit Israel to use the Suez Canal for its shipping.

"The Suez Canal is ours," he said. "We are today stronger than in 1956 when we defeated Britain, France and Israel."

CAP Combs Wooded Area For Missing Air Force Pilot

Granby, Colo. (AP) — A heavily timbered area on the Continental Divide was searched Sunday for a Colorado Civil Air Patrol pilot who disappeared while hunting for a missing plane.

Sgt. Fred J. LaVine Jr., 32, of Lowry Air Force Base, Denver, did not return from an aerial search Friday for Thomas Allred, 38, of Seattle, Wash.

The CAP launched the search for Allred, father of 4, Thursday after Mrs. Allred said her husband had not been heard from since he took off from Boulder, Colo., July 17 bound for home.

LaVine was last seen about 4 p.m. Friday near this mountain valley town.

Half-Hour

The search commander, CAP Maj. Herbert Shearer of Denver, estimated LaVine at that time had a half-hour supply of gasoline.

An air and ground search was concentrated in a 50-square mile area, about 100 miles northwest of Denver.

"The region is so heavily wooded that whenever a sighting of possible wreckage is made we have to send a ground party in with pack horses to check the report," Shearer said. "So far we have found no trace of LaVine's plane."

Lincoln Figure Skating Club Holds Tests

The Lincoln Figure Skating Club held a test session for preliminary figures and for the preliminary and bronze dances Sunday at Pershing Municipal Auditorium.

The tests and judges were sanctioned by the United States Figure Skating Association.

Pamela Hansen and Ronald Evans were successful candidates for the bronze dance test, which includes the Willow Waltz, Ten Fox-Trot, and Fiesta Tango.

Passing the preliminary dance test — Dutch Waltz, Swing Dance and Canasta Tango — were Melvin Carr and Nancy Jenkins.

Successful candidates in the test on the preliminary skating figures were Melvin Carr, Judy Cook, Dr. Paul Morrow of Omaha; Marcia Sims and Lew Taladay.

Candidates passing individual dances were:

Preliminary — Dutch Waltz, Mrs. Melvin Carr, Judy Cook, Dr. Paul Morrow, Nancy Hansen, Marcia Sims, Canasta Tango, Mrs. Melvin Carr, Marcia Sims, Bronze — Fiesta Tango, Rosemary Rudolph, Willow Waltz, Rosemary Rudolph, Lew Taladay, Ten-Fox, Lida Otte of Omaha.

The figure and dance tests are judged on the basis of rules and technique standards established by the USFSA.

The test meeting concluded the Lincoln club's summer session. Skating meetings will be resumed in September.

Round Is Conceded In ICBM Competition

Washington (UPI) — Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy said Sunday night Russia already may have beaten the U.S. in the race to get the first intercontinental ballistic missiles into the hands of combat units.

McElroy said, however, that the number of operational Soviet ICBMs is "at the most, only a very few—less than 10." He said this was not too important because of this country's overall retaliatory power.

WHITIE REED NIPS TABER TO WIN 3RD CITY TITLE

HCC 'Ice Man' In 2 And 1 Victory

By Don Bryant
The Hillcrest Ice Man has done it again.
Ralph (Whitie) Reed, the polar-veined tow-head, regained Lincoln golfdom's throne for the 3rd time in his career Sunday, defeating young Matt Taber, 2 and 1, in the 36-hole finals of the Men's City Tournament.

It was a long, grueling day in the broiling sun—for both competitors and some 500 gallery-ites—and the golf was unspectacular.
Reed, who has been in the finals the past 4 years, previously won the city crown in 1957 and 1940.
Numerous missed putts and several of Taber's rallies failed to ruffle the 44-year-old showman who finally let his opponent's miscues supply the opening he needed.

With a 2 up lead, Whitie wrapped it up on the 35th hole—one less than he took in beating Taber in the 1957 finals—by sinking an 8-foot putt for a par, complete with high jinks for the fans.

After rolling past the pin and leaving himself a 56-footer, Reed putted some 8 feet past the pin while Taber moved to within 5 feet. Whitie then started surveying the green while combing his hair and after a lengthy discussion with his caddy, Earl Cawthorne, he sent it home with an accompanying whoop of joy.

Both finalists were off their usual form, shooting 75s in the morning and not improving in the afternoon. Reed went out after lunch in 38, while Taber soared to a 4-over 40; Reed was even during the final 8 holes, Taber was one over.

After winding up the morning activity all even—Taber made a fine a.m. comeback—Reed quickly moved in front with a birdie on the 19th. Taber passed up chances to even it on 4 and 5, missing putts of 6 and 8 feet while Whitie's putter was also on ice.

But on the 25th, the youthful redhead sank a 10-footer for a par as Reed drew his 3rd straight bogey.

They halved the 26th and then the roof fell quite suddenly on Taber. He hooked his tee-shot off No. 27 out of bounds and wound up with a 6, while Reed took advantage of the pressure-easing to go down in par.

With the monkey now riding squarely on Taber, Reed used a great approach shot on the 28th, to get within 18 wasn't dead yet. He halved the 31st and 32nd—the latter after bouncing his approach off the top of the pin onto the apron, then legging some 30 feet to within a foot of the pin.

With a roaring 350-yard drive on No. 33, Matt hung gamely to the rapidly-expiring thread of hope. And when Reed missed a 2-foot putt for a bogey, the margin was cut to 2 up.

Taber made a sensational second shot on the 34th to keep it from ending there. He sliced his tee shot into the deep rough to the left of the green, while Whitie went just over.

The lanky lefty then presented the most exciting shot of the match, hitting the pin and stopping a mere foot from the hole. Reed, with a huge grin, gave the putt and then got his par by chipping within 5 inches of the pin.

In the 36-hole First Flight finals, Glen Gruenemeier defeated Glen King, 3 and 2, for the title.

Optimists Picked After 20-3 Opening Triumph

The Lincoln Optimists American Legion Junior baseball team assured the role of a heavy favorite in its district tournament showdown against crosstown rival Gerry's Sport Shop at Elks Field Sunday afternoon while registering a 20-3 triumph.

Manager Bob Lohrborg's Optimist charges will bid for the title clincher tonight in the second of a two-out-of-3 argument, sending Mel Hester to the mound at Sherman Field.

Game time is 7:30.
The Optimists, smacking out 14 hits including 3 homers Sunday, shelled Gerry's ace Mickey McGuire and sewed up a free-swinging affair in less than 4 innings.

McGuire, who had a 5-2 mound mark entering the fray, was sidelined after the Optimists clubbed him for 4 runs—enough to win—in the 3rd frame and had embarked upon another two-run rally an inning later.

Feature of the early attack was Bill Haas' 3-run homer. Joe Gaughan, Mickey Snider and Darold Monasmith alternated hurling duties in relief of McGuire, and none of the trio had much more success.

Jim Levey's two-run circuit clout highlighted another 7-run Optimist uprising in the 6th inning off Gaughan. Monasmith was on the receiving end of Luke Cox' 4-bagger with a mate aboard during a 6-run Optimist rebellion in the 7th.

The winners sent 11 men to bat in each of the 5th and 7th innings.

Gerry's was down 20-0 before putting together Tom Neal's double, two straight Optimist errors, Gaughan's single and a pair of walks to score 3 runs in the 8th.

Keith Sieck, the Optimist ace now with a 6-3 record, was never in trouble. He issued only 5 hits and struck out 14 while walking 7.

Denny Puelz banged out 3 hits for the winners, while teammates Earl Wright, Ron Peet, Jack Griffin and Levy chipped in with two apiece.

Trend—No 'Blame'

This corner believes, but does not "blame," the increased interest in youth baseball programs does effect Lincoln Chiefs' attendance. There is a trend toward more and more participation activities, rather than spectatorism.

This does not mean, however, that participation activities are wrong. It means only that spectator activities must work harder and promote their products with increased vigor in order to survive.

I don't think the Little Chiefs have cost any more Big Chiefs' customers than boating, fishing, television, air-conditioning, brew busts or back-yard cook-outs. But I do feel that all of these popular activities have provided would-be baseball fans with other interests.

On the subject of 6-year-olds playing competitive baseball—or any other sport—I'll have to vote with Mrs. Haas. I feel that a boy has ample opportunity to receive competitive instruction and activity, without starting him out at 6 in the do-or-die routine.

Boys of that age, I feel, are better off learning rudiments of play and developing body skills without the stress of competition. "Making the team," shouldn't be his prime objective at that age, nor is it necessary for a youngster to learn the art of bean-balls, brushbacks, etc.

Hold It, Dad!

Also, I am leary of all youth programs which let the parents have too much control because parents are unable to control themselves. All of the midget football and base-

Bees Sting Lincoln, 13-3

. . . Chiefs Drop To Within One Game Of Basement

Lincoln Star Special
Burlington, Ia. — Burlington's Bees lashed out with 14 hits and made them count for 13 runs here Sunday night during a runaway 13-3 triumph over the Three-I League's 7th-place Lincoln Chiefs in the opener of a 3-game series.

Righthander Don Prince toiled the distance for the winners, issuing 7 hits, walking none and striking out 9. It was Prince's 6th victory to go with 8 setbacks.

The win pulled cellar-dwelling Burlington to within one game of the slump-ridden Lincoln, now loser of its last 6 encounters. The clubs battle it out for the basement here tonight. Lincoln ace Allen Brice (8-5) dueling Bees left-hander Buck Bowers (4-4).

Burlington picked up an unearned run in the second inning via Don Davis' RBI-double Sunday night, then exploded against young Chief righthander Joel Horlen in the 4th and salted away the macabre contest with 5 runs.

The explosion included 3 consecutive singles, followed by two walks and Ken Fisher's bases-loaded triple off the right centerfield wall.

Horlen, tagged by 11 Burlington safeties, stayed on until the 6th when a double by the Bees' Pete Embury plus singles by Prince, Fisher and Dave Wondra drove him to cover.

His relief was Dick Idzkowski, who yielded two runs in the 7th and another trio of counters in the 8th.

Prince's one bad inning was the 5th, when Deacon Jones singled. Pug Williamson was hit by a pitch, Gene Martin singled and Al Schrader lofted a sacrifice fly.

inches of the pin and snared a birdie to go 2 up.

After halving the 29th—the inimitable Reed now happily joking with the gallery—Whitie won 12 with a par when Matt eased off on his putt and the ball tailed off about 2 inches short.

It looked like a matter of time from that point, a 3 up lead with 6 to go, but Taber

Deadlock In Mt. Prospect Gals' Golf

Mount Prospect, Ill. (AP) — Betsy Rawls and Beverly Hanson tied for the 54-hole lead of the $20,000 Mount Prospect women's open golf tournament Sunday. But a blanket finish was imminent with only two strokes separating 5 players.

Miss Hanson, 34-year-old veteran from Indio, Calif., who was the 1958 leading money winner, toured the exacting 6,421-yard, par 37-37—74 Mount Prospect course in 34-37—71 for a total of 219—3 under the standard.

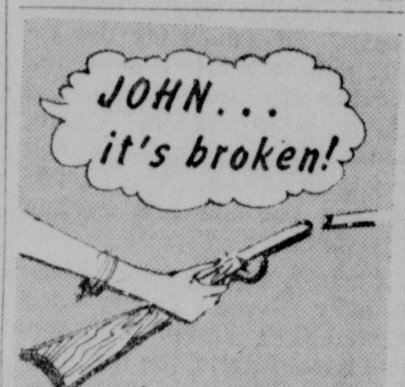

Miss Rawls, 31-year-old current ladies PGA champion from Spartanburg, S.C., and the season's top cash collector with $13,154, fashioned a 35-38—73 for her 219 tally.

Only one stroke away at 220 were Mickey Wright, the 24-year-old National Open champion from Bonita, Calif., with a 36-39—75, and Louise Suggs, the Sea Island, Ga., veteran, with 38-36—74.

Fay Crocker, 45, Montevideo, Uruguay, the 1955 U.S. Open winner, made her bid with a 73 for 221.

With such a tightly bunched group of 5 top performers, today's scheduled windup for the $6,500 first prize—largest in women's golf—may provide a photo finish. In case of a playoff, 18 holes will be slated for Tuesday. The tourney already is a day behind.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures spell out. DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

One letter simply stands for another. In this example, A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
